

Service Engineer

East Midlands
M1 corridor

Ref. No.: KM

Service Engineer - East Midlands/M1 corridor

We have an opportunity for a self-motivated Service Engineer to join our existing team to continue the company's expansion in the industrial and process sectors. The successful applicant will carry out commissioning or service procedures on Weishaupt combustion equipment in accordance with planned and documented arrangements, and provide technical support to customers and the sales team.

Ideally, applicants will be based in the East Midlands (M1 corridor), and will have a sound knowledge of combustion technology and experience in the heating/process industries. However, applications from engineers with a strong electro-mechanical background and good communication skills are also welcome as full product training will be provided.

Weishaupt offer a competitive package comprising salary, company van, pension scheme, tools, mobile phone, laptop, etc.

If you are seeking a secure and rewarding career move, please write in confidence to our Service Manager, Kyle Mann, enclosing a full CV.
